FINANCIAL.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The week ended much the same as it began, with an excess of pessimism in which stocks offered only feeble resistance to further professional pressure. The dealings were unusually light, but embraced a fairly large variety of issues. Declines ranged from one to more than two points in rails, Canadian Pacific and New Haven manifesting especial heaviness, while copper and munitions fell to four oils and motors even more. Bethlehem steel at one time showed a loss of fourteen on its decline to 45½, but recovered to 46½. There were virtually no exceptions to the lowering trend, losses being only a matter of relative degree.

United States Steel was under attack from the outset, closing at its recent low price of 82½, a net loss of 1½. Other market leaders were at lowest prices of the week and some registered new minimums for the current movement. Totals of stocks amounted to 295,000 shares, of which United States steel, crucible, Mexican petroleum, mercantile marine preferred and New Haven formed a very large percentage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Dun's Review in its issue today has this to say regarding trade conditions: Pressure upon productive forces continues a feature, and the disposition in some quarters to extend commitments into 1917 has a significant bearing on the future. which Justice Platzek denied.

Mr. Pringle then withdrew from the case and said Mr. Kaufman would ask to open the default within a few days and demanded a new trial.

The young woman told her story in whippers, repeatedly brushing aside her blonde curls as she related how, while seeking employment as a maid in the Riverside drive apartment of Mrs. Berg, Kaufman rushed up to her and detained her until three policemen came and arrested her.

Taking her before Magistrate Corrigan, Kaufman, she says, told the court she "was a suspicious girl" and declared he would prove by witnesses she was "a thief." She passed two nights in the Harlem prison and was discharged.

Describing her first meeting with Kaufman, the girl said she applied to his home for a position as a maid. It was during that interview Kaufman kissed her, she declared. Miss Conklin stubbornly told of the incident.

"He called me dearie and it dazed me. I had never been talked to like that. He sat me on his lap and called me dearie again and said a pretty little girl like me should not be looking for housework. He said I could have anything, I was so pretty—and money and automobiles would be at my disposal."

"He gave me one short kiss and then a lingering kiss," she explained. "It was the first time I had ever been kissed by a man."
